ZANE, CARTOONIST ASSAULT VICTIM IS RECOVERING

Efforts To Arrest Assailants Of Evening Star Artist Without Result

John Wing Zane, cartoonist of the EVENING STAR, is recovering from painful injuries he received when he was attacked without warning on the pier approach of the China Merchants Central wharf by a gang of Filipinos or Chinese on Monday evening when he was on his way to visit the steamer Empire State, then moored at the wharf.

Efforts of the American authorities yesterday to discover the identity of the artist's assailants were without result as Mr. Zane was unable to identify positively any of the Filipinos or Chinese attached to the ship as his assailants.

It has been learned that the assault was a case of mistaken identity. Differences between Chinese on the Empire State and Filipinos in the steerage have resulted in a number of fight between the two factions since the Empire State arrived and it is thought that Mr. Zane was taken for a member of one of the two factions when he was on his way to the ship.

Mr. Zane is a Chinese, but he had never been in China until he arrived here recently to join the staff of THE EVENING STAR, as he was born in Honolulu and has always lived there or in America.

His injuries consist of a severe scalp wound on the back of the head apparently administered by a club and bruises about the body.

British Commercial Men Gather For Conference On Vital Trade Matters

Delegates Of Chambers Of Commerce In China Start Third Annual Meeting At Supreme Court Here

Delegates from a dozen points in China and the Far East assembled at the British Supreme Court yesterday morning for the opening of the third annual conference of British Chambers of Commerce in China, which conference is to deal with many topics of vital interest to British commercial men in this part of the world.

In the afternoon the delegates went into executive session and passed resolutions affecting the Association's constitution, Customs Tariff Rule 1, the present disorder in China and claims arising therefrom, and currency reform. California Trade Party Sails for South Today

California's big trade delegation after its season of sightseeing and entertainment here is saying farewell to Shanghai and northern China today. The delegation which number 135 persons is sailing at 9 o'clock on the Pacific Mail liner Empire State which remained in port through the stay of the party in China. The travelers go from here to Hongkong and Canton and then will proceed on to Singapore and Java. They will return by way of Manila and Shanghai.

Yesterday's events for the visitors opened with a reception at the American Consulate at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. After this the visitors were taken on an automobile tour of Shanghai in fifty cars that were provided for the purpose by Chinese and American residents. This tour included a visit to the Loongwha Pagoda and through Shanghai's business and residential centers and ended at Jessfield Park where tea was served by the American Chamber of Commerce at Shepherd's Kiosk.

The final event of the Mission's visit to Shanghai was a formal dinner that was given last night by the Shanghai General Chamber of Commerce at the organisation's headquarters on North Honan Road.

FIFTY DELEGATES DINED

The banquet given by the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce was attended by about 50 members of the party and leading members of the local American community were also present including U. S. Consul M. F. Perkins, U. S. Consul R. P. Tenney, Mr. Julean Arnold, Mr. Lyman, Dr. W. T. Findley, Mr. H. H. Arnold, and others. Among the Chinese guests present were Dr. P. W. Kuo, President of the Far Eastern University, Y. M. Chien of the Bank of Communications, Mr. Tien Shih-lin, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Industrial Museum, Secretary Yang of the Bureau of Foreign Affairs and others. Mr. C. C. Nieh, chairman of the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce presided.

In welcoming the trade mission Mr. Nieh said:

"Our great sage, Confucius, once exclaimed, 'Is it not delightful to have friends coming from distant quarters?' We are exceedingly glad to welcome you, gentlemen, not only because you are come from distant quarters, but also because you are from a country which has been so friendly to our country. But what makes us most happy to extend to you our warm welcome, is the fact that your interests and aspirations are similar to ours. Our interests and aspirations are to utilise scientific principles for the development of modern industry, in order that, not only our own children, but also our fellow men, will be in a position to enjoy more and more the blessings of life, which industrial prosperity makes possible. I take it, that most, if not all, of you have such interest and aspiration.

MUST CO-OPERATE

"In order to realise this common aim of ours, it is necessary that we have very active co-operation with one another. There was a time, when China could get along very comfortably without paying any attention to foreign countries. There was a time when the United States too, did not give much thought to international affairs and foreign trade. But the day is coming—has come—when nations must co-operate with one another, especially through international commerce. Without such co-operation, I do not see how we could speedily recover from the wounds of the terrible world war. With such co-operation, we shall not only recover, but actually enter into an epoch of unprecedented commercial prosperity.

"Success in industrial adventures depends roughly on five elements, namely, raw materials, man power, knowledge based on experience, finance and fair dealing. China, with her 400,000,000 of industrious population and an unlimited amount of natural resources, which have scarcely been touched, can furnish a liberal supply of the first two. The United States, with her rich commercial experience, and her genius for business as well as her undisputed leadership in world finance, can contribute the lion's share of the next two elements, namely, business experience and capital. The last, but not the least of these elements, the principle of a fair deal, must be accepted with pleasure and enthusiasm by both. If we join hands in this fashion, I have not the least doubt we shall accomplish great things together.

"Gentlemen, we are so glad that you are here to see for yourselves the opportunities which are yours and ours. With such a vision, and with your great influence, I am sure, you will be able to fire your fellow country men with such enthusiasm for the industrial development of the Pacific Coasts, that our aspiration shall become a reality."

This Vast Throng Gathered To Greet "Prince Charlie" Chaplin In London

WHEN Charlie Chaplin, the famous film comedian, arrived in London he received a welcome that was equal to any reception ever tendered to Great Britain's royalty by the multitude. Hundreds of thousands of Londoners greeted Chaplin on his arrival there from the United States for his first visit since he became world-famous. It was necessary for a squadron of police to escort the funny man of the screen from Waterloo Station to his hotel. The above illustration shows the cheering crowd surging about his automobile as it left the railroad station. Below Chaplin was caught by the photographer showing his famous smile to his admirers.

Getting Good Fur Cheap Like Winning "Champs"

By Elsie McCormick

The great annual skin-game is on.

Being born with a clever taxidermical twist, the Chinese fur dealer can skin an animal and a foreign customer with equal dexterity. We know all about it, because we belong to that ninety-eight percent of the feminine population who are warily stalking a fur coat. The usual procedure is to sneak up on one before the coat realises that anyone is approaching. If a person approaches too noisily the coat is likely to become startled and go up so high that nothing short of a step-ladder can assist it down again.

It was on this principle that we intimated ever so gently to our tailor that a gray squirrel coat has certain advantages over organdie as part of a winter wardrobe. Yes, our tailor had a "fiend." So had the houseboy. So had all the other tailors that did business in the house.

The Damon and Pythias Brotherhood promptly went into session, and for several days our residence looked like a dress-making establishment of the Pliocene Era. There were furs on the chairs, furs nestling coslly before the grate, and tom-boy furs trying to slide down the bannister. Every boy in the French Concession had a friend and every friend had a fur. Some of them—we mean the furs—were getting bald in spots and others had the brownish tinge that resembled the amah's system of branding summer gowns with the business side of a hot iron.

FLEE FROM OUR ZOO

Driven to desperation at last, we fled from our inanimate zoo and took refuge in a shop on Honan Road. You know the kind. There was a whitish dust in the air, rows of furs carefully folded up in flour sacks, a few bear rugs hanging around the wall, and two dozen small boys in assorted sizes all related to the owner, who were busily engaged in holding down the floor, lest it arise suddenly and smite customers.

When one of the small relations stopped catching flies long enough to listen to us, we repeated our insinuation concerning gray squirrel. One of the larger sized relations then stepped on the scene registering boredom in the thirty-second degree while he unfolded various compilations of fur skins that resembled the dim outline of a coat. The squirrel aggregations, he told us as we coughed our opinion of the white dust, would disfigure our bank-account to the extent of $250 at the very earliest.

SQUIRREL TURNS TABLES

"All have go New York," he remarked indifferently, when we propounded a question regarding the squirrel famine. We remarked that though squirrels had often chased us, this was the first time that we had chased squirrels. The shopkeeper registered little interest, however, so we coughed again and went out.

Up and down Honan Road we repeated the same scenario, until we finally came to the conclusion that there must be a bumper nut crop on Broadway this year and all the squirrels had heard about it.

When we sought the sanctum of a foreign dealer, however, he denied that New York has

WASHINGTON IS SANGUINE TANGIBLE RESULTS WILL COME FROM CONFERENCE

'No Millenium Of Grounding Arms All Over World' But Strong Urge Toward It Expected To Be Brought About By Disarmament Parley—Tidings Good From Various Delegates Aiding Optimism

PESSIMISM NOW HAS BEEN LAID ASIDE

Former Gloom Over Supposed Futility Of Effort Succeeded By Glowing Hope For Future—Japan To Find Kind Welcome And Cordial Hearing

BY FREDERIC WILLIAM WILE

(Trans-Pacific Public Ledger— China Press Exclusive Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The final fortnight before the opening of the business sessions of the Disarmament Conference finds the atmosphere charged with hopefulness. An unmistakable change for the better has taken place in Washington's official circles during the past month. Four weeks ago everyone wore an air of pessimism. Today responsible men in the administration profess to be convinced that the conference is destined to accomplish tangible results.

One gathers the impression that confidence has been restored to a considerable extent by the tidings brought to Washington during the last few days by Lord Beatty, Marshal Foch, General Diaz and Admirals Kanji and Kato. Without exception, all of them have reported to President Harding and Secretary Hughes that the sentiment of their countries is now attuned to the belief that the Conference MUST succeed.

While no one cherishes extravagant hopes that the millenium now is to be achieved, as it is not included in the plan, but the widespread conviction is animating everyone of the highest officials in American, British, Japanese, Italian, French quarters that the conference is at least a step toward, not away from the millenium of grounding arms throughout the world.

As to the attitude regarding the Japanese, when Prince Tokugawa and Admiral Kato arrive in Washington, they will find all Washington kindly disposed toward them and thoroughly prepared to accord a fair hearing to the Japanese on all questions in which their government is interested.

TOKIO FAILS TO SEE AGLEN PLAN AS AID TO CHINA

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, November 2.—The Tokio Nichi Nichi publishes today as follows:

At yesterday's Cabinet council, Count Uchida, Minister of Foreign Affairs, made a report regarding Sir Francis Aglen's proposal for the relief of China's finance.

Although there was no decision reached at the council, the Japanese Government, in its general opinion, is to all appearances hesitant to approve of such a relief measure on the ground that while it may relieve the Chin Cabinet, it will not be a means for the relief of China as a whole, no matter how strictly China's finance may be supervised.

RAP SECOND HAND SHOPS

Several hundred dollars worth of tools stolen from the contracting firm of Messrs. Trollope & Colls and recovered from a second hand shop on Fokien Road were ordered turned over to the firm by the Mixed Court yesterday. Another large lot of tools, believed also to have been stolen but which have not been claimed, were ordered held by the police for a month, at the end of which time they will be confiscated unless identified by the owners. Detective Sergeant Tinkler in making the application asked the court to take cognisance of the fact that second hand shops of the character of the one involved gave the police a great deal of trouble which would be lessened if they were regularly licensed and thus came under police control.

HELD FOR MURDER

Two men, alleged to have been members of a gang that attacked and killed one Wong Teh-yuen on Avenue de Roi Albert in the French Concession, are being held for trial in the French Mixed Court.

The two men admitted that they were near the scene but said they did not know who killed Wong. They asserted that various gardeners along the avenue had been missing vegetables for some time and caught Wong in the act of stealing them. When cornered he drew a knife, they asserted, and a number of the men rushed him. Someone stabbed him to death in the scuffle.

GET BUSY WITH PACT, CHITA AND JAPAN ARE TOLD

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, November 2.—A special telegram from Dairen of today's date states that in order to accelerate the Dairen conference, press representatives held a meeting today at the Yamato Hotel, at which they passed and forwarded the following proclamation to the representatives of both countries as well as to all quarters concerned:

"Despite that the political stability and the rehabilitation of economics of Siberia are indeed vitally concerned with the prosperity and decay of the Far East," it says, "the Dairen conference, since its opening on August 26 has not yet come to terms relating to fundamental principles, and this is a matter for great regret.

"It is, therefore, to be hoped that the delegations of the two countries will do everything within their power to bring the present negotiations to a satisfactory conclusion without any further delay by making mutual concession and to settle Far Eastern problems amicably with a view to bringing about real friendly relations between the two countries."

At the meeting they also passed a resolution, the gist of which is as follows:

The Chita Government shall give its reply to Japan's counter-proposals as soon as possible with the object of reaching an agreement regarding the fundamental principles of the conference.

The withdrawal of Japanese troops shall be carried out after the completion of an agreement concerning the fundamental principles of the Dairen conference.

The present conference being held between the Governments of Japan and the Far Eastern Republic the latter shall endeavor to come to an agreement with the former as to such items as are within the scope of the authority.

Mr. Petroff has forwarded this application to his Government.

(Dalta News Agency)

Harbin, October 29.—Mr. Merkuloff has despatched General Lobvitsky to Peking to secure from the Chinese Government the release of the Ungern men arrested and confined in Chinese prison at Tsitsihar.

Despite the order of Merkuloff, the Kappelist command would not allow the Ungernists from the Chinese Eastern Railway zone to pass to Nikolsk-Ussurisk and Vladivostok.

Railway communication on the Usuuri Railway has been interrupted as the Partisan detachments almost daily blow up bridges guarded by the Japanese. On the 27th ult. two bridges on the Suchan line were blown up.

California Trade Party Sails For South Today

assuring the hosts of the deep appreciation of the party for the splendid cordiality received. Mr. Esberg drew attention to the close business relations between China and America, which countries, he said, have before them many things that could and should be worked out in common for their mutual benefit. He believes that California is yet young in the light of new responsibilities which the world war has imposed upon her and with large shipping, financial and export interests, she looks forward to receive an increasing degree of guidance and co-operation in her contact with commercial China.

Mr. Esberg complimented the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce on its remarkable growth under the direction of Mr. Nieh and his colleagues and referred to the industrial exhibit as an undertaking showing the far-sightedness and vision of the organisers. He hopes that the trade with China in tea, cotton, oil and other products will steadily increase.

"We have come here," said Mr. Esberg, "to learn about China and the Chinese merchants and to investigate the possibilities of the China market, because by becoming better informed on these subjects we will be able to render you better services."

DR. KUO IS SPEAKER

The next speaker was Dr. P. W. Kuo. In introducing him Mr. Nieh referred to a scheme of co-operation between the Southwestern University and the Chinese General Chamber of Commerce whereby experiments will be made by the university for the direct benefit of the merchants.

Dr. Kuo pointed to the close relation between education and commerce, declaring that China needs trained men not only in commerce but in other walks of life. In welcoming the trade mission he feels he was voicing the sincere sentiment of all Shanghai.

"In studying trade conditions first-hand," continued Dr. Kuo, "you will materially help to promote the trade relationship between the two countries. On account of the excellent feelings existing between Americans and Chinese, the opportunities for mutual co-operation are very great."

Dr Kuo ended by expressing the wish that more trade missions may come over from America and the opinion that similar missions will be sent from China to the United States.

Mr. Eldridge, who is on the staff of U. S. Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, said that Mr. Hoover is deeply interested in the commercial development of China.

MUST STUDY CHINA

"Columbus discovered America in looking for China. We, who cannot yet say we have discovered China, should make up for our tardiness by the intensity of our studies."

He paid a tribute to the progress made in the American consular service for the study of Chinese and hoped that American business men would also take up the study of Chinese earnestly. He said that the American Government by means of the China Trade Act and other measures is helping to make the way easy for the American merchant in China.

Mr. Lastretto commented on the unlimited actualities and potentialities of Shanghai and sketched a picture of the cordial shaking of hands stretched out from California and Shanghai. He hoped that the result of the Pacific Conference would ensure permanent peace on the shores of the Pacific. He referred to the important work undertaken by the Pan-Pacific Union under whose auspices already three conferences have been held with good results—the conference of scientists, the conference of educationalists and the conference of newspapermen recently held in Honolulu.

CONFERENCE COMING

He said that in the near future a conference of business men will be held and the Chinese merchants will be officially invited to join in the deliberations.

The health of America and China was toasted and three cheers given. When the party left the table, it was 11 o'clock. After the dinner, they visited the Industrial Museum.

The party will return to Shanghai in the first part of December and proceed to the United States via Yokohama. They will be in port for a day and a half but as the vessel will be anchored at Woosung will not likely land. It is believed that on the return of the party to San Francisco, a new party will be sent out to organise a firm here to handle import and export trade on a large scale.

"This is a tentative visit," said one member who is about to celebrate his 70th birthday and who visited Hongkong 40 years ago. "It's just to say 'How do you do?'" for Infants and Children.

CASTORIA

Save the Babies.

INFANT MORTALITY is something frightful. We can hardly realize that of all the children born in civilized countries, twenty-two per cent, or nearly one-quarter, die before they reach one year; thirty-seven per cent, or more than one-third, before they are five, and one-half before they are fifteen!

We do not hesitate to say that a timely use of Castoria would save a majority of these precious lives. Neither do we hesitate to say that many of these infantile deaths are occasioned by the use of narcotic preparations. Drops, tinctures and soothing syrups sold for children's complaints contain more or less opium, or morphine. They are, in considerable quantities, deadly poisons. In any quantity, they stupefy and retard circulation and lead to congestions, sickness, death. Castoria operates exactly the reverse. It causes the blood to circulate properly, opens the pores of the skin and allays fever.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"I have used your Castoria in cases of colic in children and have found it the best medicine of its kind on the market."
J. E. SIMPSON, M. D., Chicago, Ill.

"Castoria is good for children and I frequently prescribe it, and always obtain the desired result."
F. GERALD BLATTNER, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

"A medicine so valuable and beneficial for children as your Castoria is deserves the highest praise. I find it in use everywhere."
J. S. ALEXANDER, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"I have prescribed Castoria in families for several years. It is all right. Mothers like it, for children will take it without any trouble."
G. A. WILSON, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"Have used your Castoria on various occasions in suitable cases and have found it a palatable and efficient laxative, especially in the various diseases of childhood."
CHAS. EDWARD GARDINER, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a splendid remedy for children, known the world over. I use it in my practice and have no hesitancy in recommending it for the complaints of infants and children."
J. A. BOARMAN, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

NO BULLETS WU FINDS IN PROBE OF THE ARSENAL

(Eastern News Agency)

Hankow, November 2.—General Wu Pei-fu, upon his return here, paid a visit to the Hanyang Arsenal and the Ordinance Stores at Wuchang, where he in person investigated the present quantity of arms and ammunition and found to his great surprise that there is very little of ammunition left there as a consequence of the big battles at Ichang and Yochow.

He, therefore, has given orders to the Hanyang Arsenal to manufacture with all speed bullets and shells as well as to make uniforms.

Judging from the above facts, it appears General Wu is secretly making necessary preparations against the possible attack of the Southern troops.

Canton, November 2.—According to those, who have of late returned here from Kwangsi, the Kwangsi soldiers, who were compelled to disperse under arms as a consequence of the recent invasion into the province of the Cantonese troops, are now some thirty thousand in number and are freely plundering various districts in Kwangsi.

The consequence is that commerce there has been almost brought to a standstill. Ma Chun-wu, Civil Governor of Kwangsi, and General Chen Chiung-ming are racking their brains for a solution of this bandit menace.

As a result of a conference with an agent of Wu Pei-fu's, Tuchun Ho Hou-chi, of Fokien, has consented to ally himself with the Northern general, according to the Chinese press. The conditons of the alliance, it is stated, are that two regiments of Northern troops are to be sent to Fokien to form a division with 5,000 recruits who have just arrived and they are to attack Canton. The Canton military government has issued intructions, the report states, for an attack on Fokien.

ASK TANG'S HELP

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Canton, Nov. 2.—Dr. Sun Yat-sen has sent Dr. Wu Chao-chu and Dr. Wang Ching-wei to Hongkong with an autographed letter to General Tang Chi-yao asking General Tang to join him in the campaign against Peking as chief aide to the generalissimmo (Dr. Sun) and Chief of the General Staff. The letter mentions that General Li Lieh-chun has been appointed commander-in-chief of the Yunnan-Kueichow and Kiangsi armies.

HO IS MENTIONED

Peking, Nov. 2.—In view of the threatened attacks by the Cantonese army on Kiangsi, the Peking Government believes that General Chen Kuang-yuan, the Tuchun of Kiangsi, will not be able to withstand the attacks of the Cantonese and are considering his transfer to another post.

The Chihli party is secretly working for the appointment of Chang Fu-lai as Chen's successor, while the Fengtien party is secretly pulling the wires for Chang Hsun's appointment. Peking, however, thinks that Chang Fu-lai's qualifications are not such as would make him a suitable man for the post, while Chang Hsun is not acceptable to the citizens.

The Peking Government believes that the best man for the post would be General Ho Feng-ling, Military Governor of the Shanghai district.

Manchuli May Be Conference Scene

Thousands Honor Soldiers Of France On All Saints' Day

(French Wireless through Reuter)

Paris, Nov. 1.—All Saints' Day was celebrated today with impressive fervour and zeal. This morning the President and Mme. Millerand laid a palm branch and flowers on the grave of the Unknown Soldier, before which throughout the day there passed delegations of various organisations and the people of Paris to pay their tribute.

Never had the burial place of the Unknown Soldier such an abundant and dazzling covering of flowers. The cemeteries were crowded and in the churches the masses of the Toussa'nt were celebrated with the customary solemnity.

The President of the Chamber, M. Raoul Peret, unveiled in the Vienne a monument to the memory of those who died in the war in the commune of Vendeuvre (Poitou), of which he has been mayor for 20 years.

Navy Beats Police After Keen And Struggling Play By Score Of 5 Goals To 2

Shanghai Team, Playing Many Subs., Overwhelmned In First Half; Comes Back In Later Play And Holds The Strong Sailor Eleven

The Navy represented by the British ship Hawkins defeated the Police Recreation club at football yesterday afternon, after sharp and interesting play, by the score of 5-2. The count at half time was 3-0 in favor of the sailors. The first half was full of exciting and scrimmaging passages. The second half saw the game opening up, with honors even.

Rumbold, outside left for the Navy scored the first goal of the match after receiving the ball in front of the goal on a short cross-field kick from Thomas. The latter put another through from a corner kick, and a third was scored after a little scrimmage in front of the net by Coombs.

The second half with the change of sides saw a more even and more open game. Watson had the ball brought up to him in front of the Navy goal and registered the Police's first goal. The Navy shortly afterwards almost scored another when they took the ball up to the goal and drove sharply to just inside the post. Cameron by a beautiful plunging dive saved the goal.

The Navy again put the ball in the net soon afterwards, when their center forward, Cross, coaxed Cameron out from in front of the goal, and after a little scrimmage kicked into the unprotected goal. The score however was disallowed as being off-side.

The Police's second goal was scored by Hotchkiss on a close cross field kick from near the end line on the left just to the inside of the right goal post. The Navy scored their fifth in an easy short drive after a scrimmage in front of the posts.

The Navy eleven showed almost the same strength and effectiveness as the team off the Titania which played here last week. The Hawkins is expected to remain in port for the next two weeks, and are working up a schedule with Shanghai elevens which will keep them busy for their stay.

The Police did not have their best team in the field. They were short one man when the game began and had to call on the Navy for a substitute. Marine Carey volunteered, and filled in the right half back for the S.M.P.

The teams played as follows:

ST. JOHNS, 2; CUSTOMS, 0

St. Johns defeated the Customs Recreation Club football eleven yesterday on the university field by a score of 2-0. St. Johns plays the Shanghai Football Club Saturday in the League schedule, and expects to play a friendly match Tuesday with the British ship Hawkins.

Am'n Schoolboys To Meet Today In An Interclass Yankee Football Match

Game Called For 4 p.m. At Hongkew Park Will See Juniors-Seniors And Freshmen-Sophamores Elevens Fighting For Honors For Series

American football will have its second appearance in China this afternoon when the Junior-Senior eleven of the American School meet the Freshman-Sophamore team in Hongkew park at 4 p.m. The game is expected to attract a big crowd of followers of the game.

The Junior-Seniors combination, which won last week's match hope to end the series today by taking the second game, but the Frenchmen-Sophamores by reason of their better defensive work, and their improvement under coaching within the last few days are confident of winning today. They say they have developed their defense sufficiently to stop even Herbert Waters, who scored the three touchdowns for the upper classmen in Saturday's match.

SHANGHAI PROSPECTS

The next practice of the Shanghai American Football club will be held Sunday morning at 10 o'clock on the Shanghai Polo Club Field, at which time it is expected two dozen or more candidates for the team will be out for a workout. All candidates for the Big Team are urged to be out Sunday to discuss various points of football business and to decide upon a program of play for the season. With the regatta and other sports in which Americans usually participate over, it is expected that Sunday will see the biggest turnout of Yankee gridiron men ever seen in Shanghai.

Arrangements have been completed with Col. R. Marr Johnson of the S. V. C., for the use of the Shanghai Volunteer Corps Drill Hall on any nights of the week excepting Friday desired by the American football men for training purposes. Sunday morning's practice will be followed by a meeting to decide upon a definite training program.

Manager J. E. Griffith of the the American Football Club is working hard on the matter of providing uniforms for two elevens and also for dressing-room space on the Recreation Field. Formal applications have been made to different clubs having permanent accommodations on the Race Course enclosure, and it is safe to say that facilities will be provided for players of the American game as well as of soccer or association football.

The Big Shanghai team is expected to be costumed and ready within the week, at least 24 strong. It may be that Nov. 12 will see the team in action against the Navy or the American school, or if neither is available, among themselves, in an interclub match.

BOOKKEEPING LAW INPHILIPPINES IS. TO BE CONSIDERED

Chinese Protest Presented In Pamphlet Form To Legislature

Manila, Oct. 18.—After its joint session with the house of representatives, the Philippine senate held its first caucus yesterday afternoon at the office of Senate President Quezon now occupied temporarily by Acting President Palma. The purpose of the meeting was to determine what matters should be given preference during the first days of the present session before the insular budget is taken up.

It was learned after the meeting that the senators decided to take up immediately the matter of the protest of the Chinese in the Philippines against the bookkeeping law which provides that all books used by business houses should be kept in either English or Spanish or one of the dialects. Unless repealed the law will take effect on November 1.

A printed pamphlet containing a petition of the Chinese residents of the Philippines to the Philippine legislature urging the repeal of the law has been distributed among the lawmakers. The petition is endorsed by practically every American and foreign business firm in Manila. The petition for repeal is based upon eight reasons as follows: "It is physically impossible for most of the Chinese to comply with the terms of the act; the business cannot stand the expense of employing bookkeepers and translators qualified to carry out the requirements of the law; the law is discriminatory and unjust; the law is unnecessary, the law is unprecedented, having no parallel in other countries; the principles underlying the bookkeeping law is wrong, since it will invite retaliation from other countries; the act if not repealed, will cripple if not wholly destroy one of the most essential functions of life in the islands; and the Chinese merchants are not new comers. They are a integral part of Philippine institutions and life."

It was learned yesterday that the Chinese consul and Dee C. Chuan, president of the Chinese chamber of commerce, will call on Governor General Wood this morning at Malacanang palace to present the pamphlet to him and to urge his support for the repeal of the law.

The other matter which the senate decided to take up immediately is the question of the ban on rice importation. The prohibition expired on October 15 last and now the legislature wishes to decide the problem of whether the lifting of the ban should remain permanent or another period of suspension should be promulgated, or whether the legislature should only recommend an increase in the rice tariff to make the coming of imported rice almost prohibitive.

Talk On Journalism Given Before 300 At Chinese Y. M. C. A.

Before a gathering of 300 at the Chinese Y.M.C.A., Mr. Don D. Patterson, Finance Editor of the Weekly Review of the Far East and Professor of Journalism at St. John's University, delivered an interesting lecture on "Today's Journalism" last night. Mr. S. K. Tsao, General Secretary of the Y.M.C.A. presided and Mr. T. Y. Chang, Manager of the China Advertising Agency, interpreted.

Mr. Patterson complimented China on having given the first newspaper to the world, the Imperial Court Gazette, and for having invented the art of printing. After tracing the stages through which newspapers have passed in reaching their state of modern efficiency, Mr. Patterson observed:

"Today's journalism is a journalism of ideals—ideals inherited from those pioneers who fought and suffered for freedom of speech and for the freedom of the press."

Mr. Patterson deplored the abuse of the press on the part of Japanese over-zealous propagandists.

The Washington Conference marks a new stage of freedom of the press, said the speaker, inasmuch as the discussions will be available for public information through the press. He believes that the craze for sensational news has affected the important role which editorials in former days used to play and questioned the right of the reporter of mixing his own views in his reports. He ended by quoting "The Journalists' Creed" of Dean Walter Williams picturing the ideal journalist as having his accounts square with God and men. He predicted a great future for Chinese journalism with the growth of modern education.

Shanghai Races—Autumn Training

(BY RAIL BIRD)

Most important of the developments in the racing situation yesterday was the apparent elimination of Messrs. Potts and Hayim's Invincible King, hitherto a favorite for the Shanghai St. Leger, the big event of the opening day. Yesterday morning's tryouts developed the fact that the pony had gone lame overnight. The cause has not yet been disclosed.

Late yesterday Invincible King seemed to be vastly improved in condition and its lameness may develop to be but an incident of training. If the pony is to be eliminated however, chances in the Leger are far more open than they have been, and Sir Paul Chater's pony Empire Dahlia now bids fair as the favorite. Mr. C. R. Burkill will ride the pony Monday. Of equal prominence for the Leger is Hope Dahlia, another of the same stable which will be ridden by Mr. Frank Vida. In yesterday's trials Empire Dahlia and its stable mate, Hope Dahlia made remarkable showings.

Other contenders for the St. Leger on their latest showings are Mr. Henry Morriss' Lichfield, which gave so good an account of itself at the last Kiangwan meet, and Silvaplana. Lichfield will be ridden by Mr. Stewart and Silvaplana by Mr. Wuilleumier. Two other ponies that are expected to give an account of themselves on showings made in training are Mr. Liddell's Tangiers, ridden by Mr. A. J. Heard; and the new Winsome and Hasty pony from Tientsin, The Peacock, ridden by Mr. Hill.

Little definite may be said at this time of the chances but the griffins that may appear in the event are Mr. Gibson's Sandy Bay, ridden by Mr. Hill, and Mr. Sparke's Wild West, which may be regarded as likely contenders on the showings they have been making. Other ponies in this class not to be lost sight of are Flensborg and the Seadove.

The first big event of the meet for veteran ponies which will be the Shanghai Stakes on Tuesday, the second day, is also a decided open event. Particular interest attaches to this race as the list of starters includes many of the ponies in the big race of the meeting—the Champion Sweepstakes. The event carries a purse of Tls. 1,000 in addition to a brand new trophy, a cup, presented by Chinese friends of the Shanghai Race Club.

Campox's Old Bill gave the fullest promise in training of living up to the standards of last season and therefore doubtless will be the favorite in this event as well as in the Champions later. More than half a dozen other ponies among the veterans, however, have been showing remarkable form, and may be counted upon both in the Shanghai Stakes and in the Champions. These ponies include Mighty King, Kings Cross, Wilson, Mountain King, Allied King, The Oriole, Ajax, Trustland, Maresfield, Mazurek, Coinsurance, Fighting King, and Shenkoland.

There will be training gallops today, Friday morning and Saturday, and the sentiment of close followers of the ponies for the coming big events will be indicated Saturday night when the selling lotteries will be held.

PEAK CASE DISMISSED

Charges of having obtained money by false pretenses that were made against Robert J. Peak, were dismissed yesterday in the court of U. S. Commissioner F. J. Schuhl after the prosecuting witness refused to testify against the defendant. Allegations that he had posed as a federal officer were not pressed. It is understood here that Peak formerly was employed in the United States revenue service at Seattle.

much of anything to do it. The trouble is, he said, that the Chinese have taken up with foreign style furs themselves, and that the flappers who last winter carried their hands in knitted scarfs will house them this year in several empty squirrels. Disturbed conditions in the interior and the breaking up of the fur trade with Russia has made this year one of the poorest in the history of the Shanghai market. Pelts are dearer and the quality poorer than almost any other season on record.

ALSO INVOKE JOSS

"Wait until you go to Peking before you buy your furs" is an anemic piece of advice, according to one of Shanghai's foreign experts. One can get quite as good bargains here as in Peking or Tientsin, he said, as in all three places it is advisable to buy with your fingers crossed after throwing salt over your left shoulder and saying your prayers backward.

Owing to the departure of the squirrels to Fifth Avenue shops and Chinese wardrobes, mink and racoon coats will be as popular this year as the only girl aboard ship during a twenty-day voyage. That is, the Chinese call them mink and racoon, though the mink usually grew on a weasel and the racoon on a bevy of civet cats. The mink-weasel coats, being a rich auburn brown, are usually far more becoming than the dull gray squirrel, and the racoon-civet cat, though a somewhat paler shade, makes up for the deficiency by a longer nap on the hair. We found the makings of an otter coat priced at $225, of a racoon coat at $110, and of a mink coat—at least the clerk called it that—at $95. Some of the enterprising Chinese shopkeepers are introducing gray rabbit coats labelled $45, which look like squirrel if worn in the twilight or seen a block away. A Manchurian sable wrap can be secured for about $1,500, though the costly Siberian sables have practically disappeared from the local market. Ermine is retailing at from $3.50 to $6.50 a skin.

FURS WITH BARK OFF

One of the most versatile furs are the lambskins. Life to a lamb-skin is a perpetual fancy-dress party. Sometimes it is dyed to look like black astrakan, and sometimes it is uncurled according to the Madame Walker system for taking the kinds from the hair of a dusky belle and sold as white fox. Another skin fond of masquerading is the kind that began life as the overcoat of a chow-dog. Chow dogs dyed black make rich-looking linings and are guaranteed not to bark at old friends while passing them on Nanking Road.

The meek and lowly Mongolian wild cat still hangs on the fur-shop wall, material enough for a coat being available for from thirty-five dollars upward. Brown wild cat generally rates as a coolie among furs, but the black variety, which is only a little more expensive, is rich enough in appearance to ride first-class in all local tram-cars.

GO TO MARMOT, NOT ANT!

One of the most important fur exports from China is the marmot, millions of skins being sent from Mongolia every year. Incidentally, the marmot performs a metamorphosis startling enough to knock any zoologist unconscious. Beginning life as a small rodent on the plains of Mongolia, it so improves itself by study, industry and hard application that by the time it reaches Fifth Avenue it has changed into a Hudson seal. This is particularly remarkable considering that there is so little water in Mongolia for it to practice in.

The capture of the marmot, according to Mr. Roy Chapman Andrews, is effected by natives who drape dog-skins over their heads and approach the burrow cautiously on all fours, stopping every few feet to bark. The marmot, if it happens to be his day at home, comes out of the burrow and barks back, bobbing up and down every few minutes in an ecstacy of salutation. When the Mongolian is close enough to see the whites of its eyes, he lets go the trigger and one more section of Hudson seal is born to this vale of tears.

Though gray squirrels are as rare this year as perambulators on Nanking Road, white squirrel seems to have accepted as many invitations as ever. We know someone who acquired an evening coat of that material in Peking for $35, and then had it refused by the cloak-room maid of a New York hotel because she said that they didn't check anything as valuable as ermine. White rabbit is much in demand for the winter lining of satin coats, as well as for collars and cuffs.

WEAR A YEAR, SHED A TEAR

As fur coats bought in China have the reputation of shedding like a white Angora cat in July, we asked a foreign expert how to tell a properly tanned skin from one with a predisposition to baldness. We were told that the best system was to find a four-leafed clover, press it carefully in a book, look for the moon over your right shoulder, and then test the coat by wearing it for a year.

"To a layman who has not made fur dealing his profession, buying a good coat is like picking out a diamond in the dark," the wholesaler remarked.

Many Chinese coats are ruined by the use of too strong an acid in the tanning process, but the recent arrival of a foreign expert who intends to open a tannery utilising American methods may eliminate a large proportion of the gamble from an investment on Honan Road.

In looking over the consular export reports, we saw a mention of shrimp skins. Probably we'll conclude the purchasing struggle by having our winter coat made out of them.

HOME PROBLEMS ARE DISCUSSED AT CLUB MEETING

Problems of the home were discussed yesterday morning at the regular meeting of the Mothers' Department of the American Woman's Club. The meeting was held at the Carlton and was presided over by Mrs. Van Buskirk.

Mrs. Hiltner announced that any parents who wish to have their children tested by the Binet system may notify her and she will arrange for the tests to be made.

The program of discussion on "Problems of Home Management" was in charge of Mrs. W. W. Lockwood. She spoke of the great responsibility of the mother in the home. Mrs. Gray discussed the servant problem, emphasising the importance of kindness and consideration in the treatment of workers. Care should be taken that servants do not become irritated, she said, through suspicious surveillance or cross words. Children should be kept out of the kitchen and praise should be meted out to servants whenever possible. Extensive entertainment, bringing heavy additional work to the servants, should not be indulged in. Assistance should be rendered servants in times of sickness or bereavement and housewives should take an interest in the families of their household workers.

Mrs. Challoner then spoke on the question of finances in the home. Household finances, she emphasised, should be as carefully considered as those of a business firm. Accounts should be kept of all expenditures in order to enable the formulation of a budget. An effective working budget could only be made when these figures were available for reference.

The next meeting of the Department takes place on Wednesday, November 16.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 1.—A meeting of the Rubber Trade Association today unanimously passed rules and contracts for the fortnightly settlement of rubber bargains which practically combines the protective measures in vogue in the settlement institutions in the London and Liverpool scheme with the London Produce Clearing-House scheme providing for daily settlements, and should prevent losses such as have occurred in rubber trading during the past eighteen months.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

November 2, 1921.

Spot bar silver was down 5/8d. and forward 1/2d. in London yesterday.

The New York price declined to 69⅝ and the London-New York cross rate to 391¼.

The official rates here today were unchanged from yesterday and, notwithstanding the drop in silver, our local market was steady to firm throughout the day, particularly so at the close.

Business in Sterling was done as high as 4/- for cash and in Gold Dollars at 78¼ for the same delivery.

Sterling for December was done at rates varying between 3/10¼ and 3/10½ and Gold Dollars at rates varying between 76 and 76¼.

The undertone of the market at present seems to be firm, owing largely to the lightness of money which is likely to continue for some time.

China bought and sold silver in London yesterday and the market is reported as closing steady, so that a further decline there at present is unlikely.

New York reports their market as being dull but steady.

Hankow Market

The British Chamber of Commerce of Hankow write as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, October 26.

FINANCE & MONEY MARKET

The price of Silver has fluctuated during the week but shows a nett decline since our last report of 1½d ready and 1⅝d forward, the respective quotations in London on the 25th instant being 39⅛d and 38¾d. The market is quoted steady at the decline. The stock of silver in Shanghai on the 20th instant was estimated to be Tls. 20,233,000 and $24,000,000, a nett decline of about Tls. 5½ lacs during the week under review. In sympathy with silver exchange quotations have also fallen, the official quotations being T/T 3/10d Oct., and 4 m/s L.C. 4/1½d October, November delivery. Forward rates are easier but the undertone is good and some reaction is not unlikely. The New York, London cross rate has improved to 3.95¾. Chinese Market Rates:—Shanghai Taels 97.8 Local Currency $70.05 Native Interest 17½% per annum.

EXPORTS

There is again very little of interest to report. European markets are all generally weaker and quotations locally are nominal in the absence of business. Wood Oil is firm owing to small supplies in hand and arriving. Native merchants are reported to be buying White Vegetable Tallow.

IMPORTS

Piece Goods:—The market is firm. Prices for Blacks and Fancies maintained, while Whites and Greys are slightly weaker. The demand for Stock Goods still continues.

Yarn:—There is a fair amount of enquiry at prices well under those ruling in Shanghai.

Hongkong Shares

Messrs. Moxon and Taylor of Hongkong write as follows in their weekly share report dated Hongkong, October 28:

We have had an active market during the week under review, with prices generally well maintained.

The Shanghai Market has been up and down and closes quiet with Ewos 1 Tael under closing rate last week.

Rubber continues neglected.

The following are the principal alterations since last week.

Hongkong Banks:—Old Shares have been done at $710 and New Shares, at $695.

Cantons:—Are still wanted at $405.

Unions:—Have risen to a buying rate of $222 without enticing sellers.

Hongkong Docks:—Have declined during the week to a buying rate of $190.

China Sugars:—There was some enquiry during the early part of the week and business was done at $205, at which price they close nominal.

Cements:—Declined a little on the eve of settlement but close considerably firmer with buyers at $25⅛, and no sellers for cash, and $26½ to $27 for December.

Hongkong Lands:—Have been the medium of a small business and close nominal at $210.

Humphreys:—Are wanted at $10.35.

Shanghai Docks:—Have eased off slightly and close quiet at Tls. 121.

Shell Transports:—Have steadied up slightly and close with buyers at 85/-.

Singapore Rubber Auction

Singapore, October 19, 1921

During the week under review the London market has continued its upward move, culminating at 10d. for spot landed terms. The New York market apparently had to follow London's lead owing to the improvement in the cross-rate and "shorts" covering. The local market has remained strong with only a slight setback yesterday on account of cables reporting an easier feeling in the London market.

There was a very good demand at today's auction, and prices realised show an allround advance on the week.

500 tons were catalogued for sale, and out of the 537 tons offered 465 were sold.

Awarded Standard Sheet found ready buyers at 33 to 33½ cents, marking an advance of 1 cent.

Sheet equal to Standard was well competed for, advancing 2 cents on the week.

Off Quality Ribbed Smoked Sheet also met with a good inquiry and realised fair prices.

No sales of Awarded Standard 1st Latex took place.

Crepe equal to Standard sold at 32 to 31½ cents, being 1½ cents up.

Off Color Latex was wanted at a similar advance.

Fine Brown, Bark and Barky Crepes found a good market at prices on an average about 2 cents up.

MAKE YOURSELF STRONGER

People with strong constitutions escape many minor ills that make life miserable for others. Don't you envy the friend who does not know what a headache is, whose digestion is perfect and sleep undisturbed?

How far do you come from this description and have you ever made an earnest effort to strengthen your constitution, to build up your system toward off disease and discomfort?

Everyone cannot have perfect health, but unless you have an organic disease it is generally possible to improve your physical condition by attention to the rules of health, the first of which is to keep the blood built up.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain just the elements needed to build up the blood and restore the lost color and vitality. New energy circulates through the system with the enriched blood the heart stops its alarming palpitating, colour returns to cheeks and lips.

Nothing more is needed except sunlight, good air, proper food and rest. If you do not know exactly what rules to follow in these matters write today to the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai for the booklet, "The Blood and Its Work." Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' pink pills, or they will be sent by mail on receipt of price, $1.50 per bottle, or $8 for six bottles, post free from the above address.

INDIAN FACING MURDER CHARGE DENIES GUILT

Sarwan Singh On Stand Says He Believes Accuser Committed Crime

Sarwan Singh, Indian, who is on trial for murder in the British Police Court before Magistrate G. W. King testified in his own defense yesterday and declared that he did not kill Mangal Singh, whose body was found in an alley off Kiangse Road about ten days ago.

In the course of his testimony the defendent intimated that he believed the real murderer to be an Indian, Juna Singh, who gave information to the police concerning the tragedy and who has appeared as a witness for the prosecution. The court room again was crowded with turbanned Sikhs who have been following the course of the trial.

Mr. J. G. Priestwood, who is conducting the defense, called as his first witness yesterday an interpreter attached to Central Police Station. This witness was questioned concerning a visit made to Central Station by Juna Singh after the assault had been made. The interpreter said when Juna Singh came to the station he declared he had been assaulted in Kiangse Road by two Indians, but he did not know their names and, in fact, could not even tell his own name, as he was under the influence of liquor. The witness said that on a second occasion when Juna Singh came to Central Police Station he asserted that he had seen Sarwan Singh kill Mangal Singh. The defendant was then called.

DEFENDANT TESTIFIES

He said that when he was in India he was at one time with the military police in Burma; after that he took up farming. He had served in the Army in Mesopotamia where he was wounded. When he came to Shanghai about a year ago he obtained employment as a police watchman.

On the night of the murder, he went to Aman Singh's room in the alleyway for an Indian song book, he said. Three Indians, including Juna Singh and deceased were sitting on the staircase drinking. He only stayed in the room half an hour and then went alone to Peking Road and walked to Connaught Road where he lived with another Indian.

The next morning he went to a cotton mill where he knew watchmen were being engaged, and while he was there, he was arrested by a foreigner and a Sikh who charged him with murder and took him to Gordon Road Station.

HAD NO QUARREL

Prisoner said that he had no quarrel with deceased while he was in the room and neither bore any grudge against the other. In answer to the Magistrate's question as to why Juna Singh had made the allegation against him, prisoner said it was because his uncle had been a witness in India against Juna when the latter was convicted to five years imprisonment. This happened when he was a boy; he was only 27 years old now.

Cross-examined by Mr. R. C. Faithful, Police Prosecutor, accused admitted that four months ago he assaulted another Indian employed at Whiteaway, Laidlaw and Co. He was drunk at the time and a number of Indians told him that he had assaulted the man. Accused paid him $24 compensation although he was only earning $23 per month at the time. As to allegations that he had assaulted other Indians, they were untrue, said the accused emphatically.

HAD NO STICK

Sometimes he carried a stick, but on the night in question he had no stick with him. Juna Singh had a stick and went to the room with one. The stick which he used, said accused, was stolen while he was in a joss house.

It was not true that he took 10 cents from a table in the watchman's room and went out and bought samshu. He did not drink on the night of the murder. Accused said that he thought that the man who was blaming him was responsible for the death of Mangal Singh, but although he was asked who that man was, the accused said he did not know.

The case was adjourned until this morning at 10:30.

Boston Men Sold Like Slaves

FIFTY jobless men were recently placed on the auction block on Boston Commons. Stripped to the waist, after the custom of the old slave auctions, they declared their willingness to work by standing before a crowd of thousands, offering their services to the highest bidder. The good points of the men, including many war veterans, unable to find employment, were pointed out by Urban Ledoux, philanthropic worker, who conducted the sale. Ledoux in issuing notices to employers about the "slave-market," requested them to be on hand to "buy honest to God Americans," anxious to work for their keep. The photo shows Ledoux auctioning one of the "slaves."

Ledoux, the Boston auctioneer of unemployed men.

"Ledoux will not be permitted to do what he threatens," said Mrs. George L. Loft, Fifth Deputy Police Commissioner, when the Boston auctioneer's statement was brought to her attention, "New York is perfectly willing and able to care for her own unemployed. There is no condition of unemployment among women in New York justifying any such measures as Ledoux mentions."

Commissioner Coler in a letter to Police Commissioner Enright referred to the Boston auctioneer as "an exceedingly plausible and dangerous individual," and added:

"The recently appointed Industrial Aid Commissioners request that you take such action as is necessary to suppress any illegal demonstration that may be attempted by Ledoux.

"New York can and will dispose of its own unemployment problem," said Commissioner Coler in conclusion. "We will not permit the situation to be aggravated by the transportation of out-of-town hoboes to this city."

As A Bicyclist Postman No. 260 Shouldn't Brag

Chinese Postman No. 260 is some bicycle rider. He admits it himself.

Wong Ah-woo of 223 Kashing Road, however, thinks that as a bicycle rider Postman No. 260 is a good coal-heaver.

Yesterday afternoon the postman, resplendent in his uniform, came riding out of the alleyway near the Savoy Hotel, just off Nanzing Road.

Two apprentices were just passing the alley entrance with a basket of clothes swinging between them as No. 260 churned the sprocket down the alley.

The only logical thing that could happen did happen. The bicycle met the basket with spinning wheels and a tenth of a second later masta's skirts and missy's regalia were skittering through the alleyway in all directions. One sock was found just south of the Savoy Hotel and two pieces of unmentionables are still unaccounted for.

Wong himself arrived on the scene just in time to see a ricsha coolie step on the shiny bossom of a white shirt he had just spent several arduous minutes over, and let out a howl that brought a policeman to the scene.

Chin music rent the air for several agonising seconds, and then all went to the police station.

"Mr. Zero" To Put Unemployed Women On N. Y. Auction Block

Boston, Sept. 14.—Urbain J. Ledoux, familiarly known as "Mr. Zero," leader of the Church of the Unemployed, upon his return to Boston today announced that he intended to introduce the auction block for the "sale" of jobless persons in New York City next week and would offer both men and women "slaves" to the highest bidders in spite of objections that have been made by public officials and private organisations.

Ledoux told of a night which he spent in New York parks, when he counted 562 men sleeping out of doors and said there were additional multitudes shelterless in Central Park.

"I roamed in New York parks all of Monday night and found the following conditions: In Bryant Park, 315 hungry and shelterless men; Madison Square, 104; Union Square, 78; Peter Cooper Square, 52, and huddled in the doorway of the Cooper Union, 13. Exservice men in uniform were sleeping there. The vast majority of all these men were under thirty years of age and half were certainly war veterans.

"Thare figures do not include the multitude that were sleeping in Central Park under the hedges in the pavilions, on the lawns and even in lavatories."

Bird S. Coler, Commissioner of Public Welfare and chairman of the Mayor's Committee on Unemployment, in a statement issued last night said he would vigorously combat the auctioning of men and women in New York announced to take place next week by Urbain Ledoux.

Blood Poisoning
Yet Another Grand Recovery

Our Portrait is of Mr. WILLIAM HARBORNE, of 6, Railway Road, Perry Bar, Birmingham, England, who writes:

"About two years ago I met with rather a bad accident. My arm was cut severely, and I had to have it stitched at the hospital. This caused me six weeks' absence from work, and after resuming my duties for one week I broke out all over my body with huge Boils. Again I went to the Hospital, and was treated for Blood Poisoning; this happened on three successive occasions, until I began to think I should never be cured. Then I gave Clarke's Blood Mixture a trial, and the first bottle or two seemed to be driving out the poison, so I persevered, and after taking ten bottles I was cured. It is now over twelve months since I left off taking your Clarke's Blood Mixture, and I have seen no signs of any further blood disorder."

CLARKE'S BLOOD MIXTURE, by reason of its remarkable blood purifying properties, can be relied upon to give speedy relief and lasting benefit in cases of Eczema, Bad Legs, Abscesses, Ulcers, Boils, Pimples, Eruptions, Piles, Glandular Swellings, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gout. Pleasant to take and free from anything injurious.

Princess Chun's Funeral Is Long And Solemn Pageant

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, Oct. 30.—The funeral of Princess Chun left Prince Chun's palace at ten minutes past two this morning, starting on the long slow march to the mausoleum of Prince Chun, father of the later Emperor Kuangsu and Grandfather of the ex-Emperor Hsuantung.

An enormous number of people, principally Chinese but with a few foreigners interposed, were already lining the streets to gain a view of the procession. The ceremonies observed throughout were those usually accorded only to an Empress.

On leaving the palace the procession moved westwards. The flag of the Manchu Household was carried in front, followed by a party of Imperial Hunting Braves. Then came four camels loaded with hunting tents, four hunting falcons carried by huntsmen followed the camels. Next there appeared the bearers of twelve banners representing the Chun House, then followed the Peking Gendarmerie Band playing the "Dead March" in Saul.

LIONS ARE FEATURE

A pair of Imperial Lions introduced a new feature in the procession, a brilliantly decorated sedan chair with various imperial emblems following and being followed by bearers of two gorgeous imperial fans held aloft on long staves and a large umbrella all of imperial yellow. Then came two umbrellas made of grey silk and inscribed with sacred Buddhist characters. These were contributed by the Manchu Household.

A Chinese band with ancient Chinese instruments supplied by the Imperial Musical Department of the Manchu House contributed selections of old-time music, while the band of the Charity Factory, established by the late Princess, came next, a little way in front of the coffin which was borne by eighty coolies dressed in purple, the coffin being draped in red. An escort of sixteen Manchu Cavalrymen carrying old Manchu weapons escorted the bier. Parties of police and soldiery completed the official portion of the procession.

MARCHES BEFORE COFFIN

The chief mourners, Prince Chun, Prince Tsao Tao and the two younger sons of Princess Chun, walked immediately in front of the coffin dressed in white, but later entered a motor car and drove the remainder of the long journey.

A group of officials representing the Manchu House and the Republic of China were in control of the procession. Prominent among these were General Wang Huaiching, Prince Tsao Tao, representing the ex-Emperor, and Mr. Chi Ling, representing the Imperial Household.

The route throughout was lined by men of the Peking Gendarmerie and Metropolitan Police. Sacrificial stations were supplied by the yamens of the Manchu Banners at regular intervals.

Every available space was filled with onlookers as the procession wended its way slowly westwards from the vicinity of the Drum Tower, through Hsinchiehkou, the Hsichimen, via Haitien, then northwards by way of Peiyangho to the destination of Changpinghsien, near Miaokoufeng, where the burial will take place. The official time for the burial is 4 o'clock this afternoon, but judging by the progress up to noon the burial will not take place before tomorrow morning.

Court Criticises Traffic Bye-Law

The question of whether the Municipal traffic regulations apply on streets extending outside the Settlement limits was raised in the British Police Court yesterday when Mr. C. P. Rakusen appeared on the charge of driving a car without a tail light.

A Japanese constable testified to seeing the defendant's car on the North Szechuen Road on two occasions when the tail lamp was not lighted. In raising the question as to applicability of the bye-law Mr. G. W. King, Magistrate, made the comment that the bye-law was badly worded. The case was dismissed and another similar charge against Mr. Rakusen will be heard today, the offense in this instance being alleged to have happened in the Settlement.

September Report Of Fires Issued

In the month of September a total of 23 calls were answered by the Settlement Fire Department according to the department's report published in the current issue of the Municipal Gazette. Of the total eight calls were false alarms and the damage done for the month from the other 15 fires was estimated at Tls. 7,250 while the property at risk amounted to Tls. 244,000.

SOVIET HOLDING FAST TO ANTI CAPITAL STAND

(Rosta News Agency)

Moscow, Oct. 27.—The new economic policy of the Soviet Government is being discussed in various aspects by the press. Mr. Steklоff, the well-known journalist, expresses his opinion that this policy does not endanger the position of the Soviet Government and in no way can be considered as abandoning proletarian principles. In the Izvestia he writes:

"Surely the capitalists will try to strengthen themselves everywhere in the hope that this seeming economic victory will lead it eventually to political power. There is no doubt that not only the Russian capitalists but also international capitalists will squeeze themselves into Russia, as Mr. Lenin has correctly pointed out.

"The new economic policy, in other words, is a form of economic coalition. The peasants have never given up the revolution to the enemy and will not give it up when the decisive moment comes, if we establish proper relations with the peasants. If we remain determined and abide by our policy towards the peasants, then at the decisive moment the peasants will go hand in hand with the workers against the capitalists, both Russian and foriegn, who will always stand for the Russian landlords."

Mr. Ovsiannikoff in Communistic Labor consoles the disheartened, saying that after the proletarian learns from the capitalist the management of industries, he will politely ask the capitalist to retire. Then the proletarian without any middlemen will distribute the product of his own labor between the city and the farm.

NEW ENGINEERING FIRM ENTERS FAR EASTERN FIELD

Officials Of Armstrong, Whitworth And Co. Arrive To Open Offices

With the arrival on the Empress of Asia of Mr. F. B. Trevelyan, special director in charge of the Far East for the well known British firm of Sir W. G. Armstrong, Whitworth and Company, Ltd., and Mr. Robert A. S. Waters, new General Manager for China of the company, another famous engineering firm enters the field in China.

Armstrong, Whitworth and Company before and during the war were one of the famous armament concerns of Great Britain, but since the war they have purchased a number of manufacturing and engineering firms in England and have established themselves all over the world as a commercial house dealing in engineering equipment and service of every description, including ship building, hydro-electric work, all kinds of steel and small engineering tool manufacturing, civil engineering projects and motor cars. The Armstrong-Siddeley motor car, handled in Shanghai by the Central Garage, are among their manufactures.

Mr. Waters represented the firm in Peking before the war, returning to England in 1914 and serving throughout the war as an expert on armament construction. For the past two years he has been in charge of the building up of the commercial department for his concern.

Mr. Waters spent several months in South America on his way to China and describes conditions there as extremely bad.

"Business in Chile, the Argentine and Brazil are at a standstill," Mr. Waters declared. "The warehouses in the ports of all three countries are filled with goods that have not been cleared, and in many places great dumps of goods are in the open air. At Buenos Aires alone over £10,000,000 are lying awaiting better times.

"The Argentine will be the first to right itself. Conditions there have been very bad because of the complete dominance of the government by labor but better days are coming, and, I think, soon. Chile is the hardest hit and will be the last to recover."

Mr. Waters, who is accompanied by his wife and three children, will remain in Shanghai for two or three weeks and will then go to Peking where he will establish his headquarters. Prominent firms in the ports will be appointed to handle the various goods of Armstrong, Whitworth and Co. Sir Glyn West is chairman of Armstrong, Whitworth and Company, and Mr. Waters' brother-in-law, Mr. John Noble, is vice-chairman.

Cotton Prices Soar As Spot Houses Seek Cover

(Reuter's Service)

New York, Sept. 30.—The big feature in cotton market circles this week has been the sensational developments following the issuance of heavy notices for delivery on October contracts. According to the story current here, some of the big spot houses which were short of October arranged for the delivery of a large block of cotton with the expectation of getting it back at lower prices.

To their astonishment, the cotton upon being tendered, was immediately "stopped" or held by those who had been long of the contracts, and it developed later that the biggest holders were Japanese interests who thus secured it is estimated, about 55,000 bales of the New York stock, which is looked upon as being of very fine quality. They were credited with having purchased the October contracts a long time ago when the price was around 13 cents.

In an effort to replace the cotton thus lost, spot houses ran October contracts up over 100 points and precipitated a strong bull movement in the whole market which has lasted pretty much the entire week. As there has been no improvement in crop news during the week, the trade at present writing is prepared for a Government condition of around 40 cents or perhaps a trifle lower.

But while much attention is being paid a to crop news the market has also been affected by the unfavorable financial conditions in Germany which it is feared are only a reflection of unsettled conditions throughout most of Continental Europe. The trade is naturally keeping a close watch on this phase of the situation as it may in some measure counteract the bullishness of crop news.

Meantime in the cotton goods division of the market there seems to be a resignation to higher prices based on 20 cents cotton and the buying has been a little more confident in the last few days. It is said that some of the bleachers, converters and bag manufacturers are now covering their late wants by contracts. Some mills are selling well into next year and many instances are now reported of mills making bag sheeting and some print cloths selling into February and March. Prices paid are on the highest levels reached during the current movement. Mills having any stock goods are said to be able to sell more freely than for a long time.

An interesting report from Texas said the picking ranged from 50 to 95 percent with an average of 70 percent. Local banks are said to be liberal in extending loans on cotton and some sections report 30 to 40 percent of receipts sold for higher prices. While many farmers and merchants expect 25 cents ultimately they are selling as fast as they can haul it at present prices. It is said that grades are now running from average middling in Central Texas to a little better in North and West Texas. The reports claimed that while the staple was disappointingly short in some sections, in others it was just as good as last year, this being especially true in North Texas. A good demand from European markets and some from American mills was reported.

Throughout the week there has been a good deal of Southern hedge selling. One house alone here said it had sold upwards of 40,000 bales in two days for Southern account. It is pretty evident that there is, or has been, a large amount of cotton for sale in the South at between 21 and 22 cents.

Speculative buying has been sufficiently large to absorb this pressure, but it has taxed the market severely to do so. There has been a feeling in some quarters that after the October position had been pretty well liquidated, the tendency would be towards smaller near-month premiums or possibly in the direction of late month premiums once more. This has been based on an idea that the market would get to a price at which the South would sell freely but that confidence in the future deliveries would be sustained by small crop figures.

At the same time, however, there is a possibility that there will be a good deal of cotton shipped out of the local stock, although it is believed in some quarters that if this cotton is replaced by shipments of new crops the arrivals will be of a less desirable grade than the old crop cotton now here.

A feature of the business in futures this week has been the large proportion done by trade interests. They have bought on every decline as well as on advances, and this with the Southern hedging has constituted a great deal of the business done in the ring as the volume of outside speculative business has not been so large as on the previous advance above 20 cents.

GET OTHER SENSATION

New York, October 7.—Expectations of the cotton trade for another sensation in the Government crop report were realised, but in a way few anticipated. Nearly all indications previous to the publication of the report pointed to a very low condition, and it was generally believed that a figure around 40 or perhaps lower would be shown. Just previous to the issuance of the report the market emphasized this view by showing decided strength and many traders had orders to buy if the report was under 40. Therefore the actual figures, making condition 42.2, were so much out of line with expectations that an immediate selling movement on a big scale was precipitated.

It mattered little that even this condition was the lowest on record and ordinarily would have created a bear panic in the market. The trade had been figuring on something sensationally bullish and were plainly disappointed. A supplementary report issued by the Bureau in connection with its crop figures said that there will be little middle crop and no top crop. It is said that the crop may be picked out by early November.

MUCH GINNING DONE

Some traders comment on the large ginning figures, amounting to 2,907,000 bales against only 2,249,000 bales ginned last year to the same date. These figures represent facts, it is pointed out, whereas the crop estimate of 6,537,000 bales is in the nature more or less of a guess. Meanwhile, say these traders, we have with last year's termendous carryover an ample supply for next year, particularly in view of the figures compiled by the International Federation of Master Cotton Spinners and Manufacturers Association which placed world consumption of American cotton for the half year ending July 31, 1921, at only 4,500,000 bales during which time the price of cotton was about half what it is at this writing.

Further details of the Japanese coup in stopping notices last week is coming to light in reports that shipments from the local stock will probably begin within the next two or three weeks. It is expected that a good part of the cotton will be shipped out and they have already booked room for about 13,000 bales with a possibility of considerably more either actually engaged or under negotiation.

While the Government report severely taxed the bullishness of many traders there are still a number of conservative people left on the floor who firmly believe in higher prices eventually.

DECLINE IS NATURAL

These regard the present decline as a natural outcome of overenthusiasm on the bull side resulting in an unwieldy long interest which must be liquidated before the market can regain its equilibrium.

They contend that even further decline is not improbable but say the fact remains that consumption this season must absorb the present crop and a very large part of the carryover and that if the weevil is to be kept down it must be by expensive methods which will be reflected in outside conditions which were not present on the advance before the Bureau figures were announced.

Furthermore it is judged from the tone of wires reaching here from the South that farmers intend to make 20 cents their limit of concessions and will not be interested below that figure. The South has marketed about a million bales of their crop and therefore should be in a position to wait for satisfactory prices, it is said.

ENOUGH IN SIGHT

Cotton goods men claim that there is enough cotton in sight to supply whatever demand is in prospect at this time and they hope for a stable price for a time in order to reach a basis of profits for mills that will ensure steady production. Some merchants have been so distinctly conservative that they have marked up goods hardly 12½ to 15 percent although cotton has risen 100 percent from the low point. It is clearly their aim to name prices that will not check business for they realise that any rush to lift prices at this time will bring on serious hesitation in the movement of goods which is what they are trying to avoid.

CRITICISE CARE OF WAR VETS BY BUREAU OF U. S.

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The Senate Committee, investigating the Veterans' Bureau, has published reports, recommending the cancellation of contracts with hospitals, not existing on April 1, 1917, permitting applying as far as possible for selection of vocations, and many other measures for the betterment of the service. The Government had failed to obtain results, commensurate with expenditure, the report said.

NORTHCLIFFE NOW VISITING IN TOKIO

(Eastern News Agency)

Tokio, November 2.—Taking advantage of the opportunity of the arrival at Yokohama today of Lord Northcliffe, newspapers here of today's issue publish articles of welcome and many of them refer to his argument regarding the Anglo-Japanese Alliance. The Tokio Nichi Nichi declares:

"So long as the Alliance is only to assure the peace of the Orient and is in no way hostile whatever to the United States there can be no reason why it should not be continued.

"Inasmuch as Japan has no territorial ambition towards China, always acting on the principle of the open door and equal opportunity in concert with the Powers concerned, coupled with the fact that the opinion entertained by a section of militarist is anything but representative of the popular will of the Japanese people at large, it is devoutly to be hoped that Japan's diplomacy and her policy towards China in particular will not be misunderstood."

The Tokio Asahi states that Lord Northcliffe's contention for the uselessness of the Anglo-Japanese Alliance is, it is to be considered, nothing but a warning to the people of Japan as to the real state of relationship existing between Great Britain and America and as to the fact that the best way in which the Far East is to be dealt with in the future time lies in the co-operation of the three great Powers, Great Britain, the United States and Japan, and that the enmity between Japan and the United States is a drawback to the peace of the world.

The Yomiuri argues that Japan, at this opportune moment, should voluntarily express her intention to abolish the Anglo-Japanese Alliance, throwing away all the circumstances in the past and thus endeavor to settle her policy for the establishment of more cordial relationship on a fresh basis between Japan, Great Britain, and the United States.

The Kokumin sets forth that the Japanese are desirous of having Lord Northcliffe study Japan in as much detail as possible and hear from the Japanese people rather than give his views to the Japanese.

Tokio, November 2.—Lord Northcliffe arrived at Yokohama today at 1 p.m. on board the s.s. St. Albans and immediately entered Tokio by motor-car. It is said that he will stay in Japan for about a week, after which time he will proceed to China by way of Chosen.

GERMAN ASKING AGAIN TO HAVE U. S. CITIZENSHIP

(U. S. Navy Radio through Reuter)

Washington, Nov. 1.—The Department of State has asked the Department of Justice to rule on the request of Captain Hans Tauscher, a former German Army officer, to return to America and to become an American citizen. An indictment is pending against him in San Francisco in connection with the India revolt case.

Tauscher is the former husband of Joanna Gadski. He said he wanted to become a citizen as an example to his countrymen and as a means of bettering Germany's relationship with America. Intelligence agents during the war said he frequently interfered in behalf of American prisoners.

DEPORTATIONS OF RUSSIANS FROM INDIA JUSTIFIED

(Reuter's Service)

London, Nov. 1.—The Foreign Office in their reply to M. Krassin's note of October 27, states that 66 Russian refugees were despatched from Egypt to Siberia on June 10 and proceeded thither for valid reasons not connected with fighting.

Regarding over 1,000 refugees from India and Irak, the expense of maintaining them and the unsuitable climates there made it imperative for them to find another asylum and, as no other country would admit them, there was no alternative but to send them to Vladivostok.

Britain did not wish to interfere in the internal affairs of Russia or the Far Eastern Republic and there was no justification of the interpretation placed on Britain's action in sending unarmed people to Siberia.

In the House of Commons today, Mr. Cecil Harmsworth stated that 70 Russian refugees had left Egypt during the last three months.

PHILIPPINE BILL MAY BAR CHINA AND JAPAN RICE

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Manila, Nov. 2.—A bill was presented in the Senate today to raise the tariff for rice from 2.40 to 6 pesos per hundred kilogrammes husked, and from 80 centavos to 3.20 pesos per hundred kilogrammes unhusked.

The bill provides that the Governor shall, with the consent of the Senate, have the right to suspend the high tariff or to take off all tariff in an emergency. It would bar Chinese and Japanese grain.

WEATHER

Fine and cool weather, moderate monsoon to the north of the Formosa strait, fresh or strong in the south.

A Great Public Service

INTEREST of China in the Washington Conference is vital and absolute. Her future lies on the conference table. Her sovereignty and the rights of her people form the axis about which the discussion will revolve. It is, therefore, of the utmost importance that the Chinese people and the foreigners in China be served with news direct from the conference, without bias, without coloring and without the deference to special interests which often marks prejudiced information.

The Trans-Pacific Public Ledger Service, now an exclusive feature of THE CHINA PRESS and THE EVENING STAR, will meet that paramount need. The dearth of news from America in the past has been almost pathetic, due to a curious agreement regarding zones of operation of the various news agencies. There has been an obvious selection of news items which would propagate misconceptions of the true state of affairs, such as editorial excerpts regarding American opinion on the renewal of the Anglo-Japanese alliance. There is no reason to hope the importance of the conference to China will bring any change in the methods of selecting news for the cables.

It is pointed out that the business of the conference will be conducted for the most part by committees working separately. The public sessions will be distinguished by the absence of questions of vital import. What takes place in the committee meetings will therefore be subject to the wildest conjecture and rumor, which will naturally find further dissemination by means of the cables to the Far East. But what China wants to know are the actual facts, the decisions and occurrences, without Japanese, British, French or American interpretation or editing, and without the coloring that is unavoidable where two or more of the countries involved are in alliance. And that ideal is the working program of the Trans-Pacific Public Ledger Service.

On the staff will be such international writers as Colonel House, Frederick William Wile, Nathaniel Peffer, and others whose articles in the past challenge the study of critics who look for the "axe-to-grind" in special or syndicated news. THE CHINA PRESS and THE EVENING STAR have exclusive rights to this service in China, and will put before the public the happenings of the conference as they occur. A straight and accurate recital of events at Washington for the next three months can well be considered the greatest public service China has ever known in the matter of news.

that H. M. Minister should have been prevented at the last moment from leaving Peking. Sir Beilby Alston wrote to me on October 19 accepting our invitation and saying 'I hope, if nothing unforeseen occurs, to be present at the opening of the Conference.'

"We knew, therefore, that there was a possibility of his not being able to come, and with a very much more important conference than this one about to open at Washington, and in the present deplorable state of affairs in China, we thought that he might at the last moment be unable to leave his very responsible post. That possibility has, I regret to say, been realised and we are unable therefore to offer him the very hearty welcome which we were looking forward to giving him.

"We appreciate just as much, however, his acceptance of our invitation and feel sure that had he been able to come he would have spared no pains to understand and appreciate the various problems which we propose to discuss. We feel sure also that his absence from our discussions will not prevent him from doing all that lies in his power to forward our aims and objects.

"Vice-Admiral Sir Alexander Duff, H. M. Commander-in-chief of the China Station, is also unable to be present. Sir Alexander's keen interest in the affairs of this Association was shown last year and I feel sure that had he been able to come he would have done so.

GREET DISTINGUISHED MEN

"The absence of such distinguished visitors is deeply regretted. On the other hand we are able to welcome Rear Admiral Borrett and Rear Admiral Maclachlan; His Honor Judge Turner, to whom we are indebted for the use of this building; the Assistant Judge, Mr. Peter Grain; Sir Everard Fraser, H. M. Consul-General, our Honorary President, and Sir William Brunyate, Vice-Chancellor of Hongkong University. The fact that they and representatives of most of the British Chambers of Commerce in China are gathered together here is, I venture to think, a guarantee that this and succeeding sessions will be as useful and interesting as they have been on previous occasions.

"On behalf of the Shanghai Chamber I welcome also the delegates of other members of our Association, who will, I am sure, be very glad to see that this year the British Association of Japan have sent us delegates in the persons of Mr. Pollard and Mr. Cooper. We are very glad indeed that Mr. Pollard and Mr. Cooper have been able to come for I feel sure that Britons in China and in Japan should be as closely associated as possible.

"Hongkong, unfortunately, has not been able to send a representative this year. The date decided on for the Conference clashed with other important engagements there and though we did our best to find another date that would suit everybody we were unable to do so. However, they are, I feel sure, with us in spirit, for they believe as firmly as we do that our Annual Conference is of real value to British interests in the Far East.

DISCUSSES ANNUAL SESSIONS

"That such is the view of His Majesty's Government is shown by the message which the Foreign Office sent to us early this year, a message which stated that "these annual gatherings." I quote the actual words—'cannot fail to promote collaboration and to consolidate the British position and influence in the Far East.'

"I can illustrate this in more ways than one. Before this Association was formed currency reform had been talked of for years and nothing, literally nothing, had ever been done. Since its formation and as a result, as I believe, of the fresh stimulus which we gave to the question, we have at all events brought the Chinese Government and Chinese Bankers sufficiently into line to agree to the erection of a mint in Shanghai and to the employment of expert foreign assistance. As you will see from the Agenda, we are not by any means satisfied with this because it does not go far enough. On the other hand Government and Bankers have taken a distinct step forward and the Mint Loan was concluded on conditions which referred specifically to our deliberations at previous Conferences.

"We are a good deal further advanced also than we were three years ago in regard to Trade Marks. This matter also is to be discussed very thoroughly later on, so I will not go into details. Indeed, I cannot do so because a good deal of the ground I should have to traverse is confidential. You must take it from me, in general terms, that we have got as far as the business men of any one nationality can go in a country where international interests have to be consulted.

"Our representations have helped to produce results in other directions. Our mails and telegrams are very much more regular than was the case when last we met. Foreign Shipping is not being penalised by having to pay fines for opium smuggled on board with the connivance of Chinese officials.

"British piece goods merchants in Shanghai, Tientsin, Hankow and Hongkong are in much closer agreement as to the lines on which business should be conducted than they have ever been before, and decided improvement has taken place on the Peking-Mukden railway.

NO PROGRESS ON TAXES

"Results of this character, purposely stated without any embellishment, are not, I think, a bad harvest.

"There are obvious limits to what any Chamber of Commerce, or Associations of Chambers of Commerce, can do. They cannot, for example, alter the structure of society. They cannot give a country a good government in place of a bad one, or make a dishonest officialdom honest. Nor can they hurry their own Government beyond the place which political and economic circumstances dictate. I can report no progress, therefore, in regard to China's system of taxation. We urged last year that the Chinese Government should be pressed to abolish forthwith the taxation now levied by the Chinese Maritime Customs on all goods carried from one port to another in China. In August H. M. Consul-General wrote to us as follows:

I am instructed to inform you that in view of existing political conditions in China, His Majesty's Government has decided to refrain, for the present, from putting forward any specific proposals for the reform of China's tariff system and has merely informed the Chinese Government in general terms of its willingness to discuss the subject.

On the other hand, the letter goes on to say:

In the event of such discussion taking place, however, due regard will be accorded to the views expressed by the British Chambers of Commerce in China.

"Under this head, therefore, we have scored this much. Our views are on record and on record also is a promise that due regard will be given to what we think.

"Again, last year we viewed with alarm the state of unrest and lawlessness prevailing in almost every Province in China; we protested against the utter failure of the Chinese authorities to deal effectively with the situation and we urged H. M. Government to use its utmost endeavor to bring home to the Chinese Government the inevitable effect of its persistent neglect of duty. Today things are worse than ever and our resolution has had about as much effect as the maxims of Mencius or the exhortations of Confucius. On the other hand, equally lacking in effect have been all the efforts of all the Legations of all the Powers.

LAUDS SERVICES OF NAVY

"I must not let this subject pass without making some reference to the services of H. M. Navy on the Yangtsze under the able command of Rear Admiral Borrett. The Navy has been a tower of strength to British merchants at upper river ports and I would like therefore to take this opportunity to tell Admiral Borrett and all his subordinates how much we value his splendid services.

"Then there are other matters in which we have also failed. We have not been able, for example, to persuade our own Government that a wireless station is necessary at Hongkong. The Government's point of view is that it would not pay and our reply that that fact does not, in our opinion, exhaust the subject In a matter of this kind the Associated Chambers are up against conditions over which they have no power. All we can do is to go on reiterating our wish for a wireless station, reinforcing our arguments with this highly important fact, that other Powers think it worth while to use wireless stations as media for propaganda on a very extensive scale—and are doing so.

TOO FEW SECRETARIES

"We have not been able either to persuade our Government to let us have more Commercial Secretaries. On the contrary they have diminished the number we had before, by withdrawing the one who used to be stationed at Hongkong. Our failure has not been due to lack of effort but to the economy campaign which politicians and newspapers have been conducting at home, a campaign thrown into singularly sharp relief by unemployment doles ranging up to £4 a week.

"I think you will agree with me that I have counted up our misses as fairly as I counted up our hits. But before leaving this review of what we have and have not achieved I should just like to ask these questions. Are we as a community of traders better organised for the purpose of making our views known than we were three years ago? Is Shanghai better able to understand the needs of Tientsin and is Tientsin better able to communicate its views to Hankow? Do Harbin and Mukden feel less far away than they used to feel and do British Merchants in Hongkong, who live under the British flag, feel that they have a corporate interest in the affairs of less fortunate British merchants in the Far East? If those questions can be answered in the affirmative I think that this Association is more than justifying its existence.

MATTERS OF LAST YEAR

"To turn now to matters which were left last year to the Shanghai Chamber to deal with.

"At last year's Conference it was resolved to appoint a Committee to inquire into and make recommendations to this Association on all questions relating to the term "Shipment" and to the responsibilities of shipowners under Bills of Lading.

"The Committee appointed consisted of Messrs. C. J. Scott (Chartered Bank), H. E. Arnhold (Arnhold Bros. and Co. Ltd.), L. M. Beytagh (Ilbert and Co. Ltd.) and a representative of the Canadian Ocean Service, together with the Secretary of the Shanghai Chamber. This Committee wrote to the Foreign Exchange Bankers' Association urging that, in view of the difficulties prevailing here, letters of credit should state that "received for shipment" bills of lading, dated within the period called for under the letter of Credit, should be accepted as conclusive evidence of shipment.

"The Foreign Exchange Bankers' Association was asked to cable this to New York and to ask for a cabled reply. No reply was received and on June 14 we wrote to the Exchange Banks again. They replied that they and the Foreign Exchange Banks in Yokohama had given the matter their sympathetic consideration, but that until the New York bankers answered, they could make no change in the rule which they had introduced. The New York Bankers have not answered and so we stand today where we stood last year, except that the difficulties occasioned are not as great now as they were then.

"As regards the wider question of the responsibility of shipowners you were informed by the Secretary on January 4 last that the Shanghai Chamber had passed a resolution expressing its agreement with the Bill of Lading Resolution adopted by the Ninth Congress of Chambers of Commerce of the British Empire held at Toronto and this resolution was sent home in the name of the Association to the Associated Chambers of Commerce in London

BUSINESS EDUCATION

"Another subject which was left to us to deal with was the resolution to the effect that the Conference considered it desirable that legislation be enacted whereby the word "British" or other word or words of similar import be appended to the names of all China companies present or future following on the word "Limited."

"You will remember that after a long discussion, in which one of the chief points made was the difficulty of making the addition of the word British compulsory without amending Articles of Association, and having a series of meetings, it was left to the Secretary of the Association to institute inquiries. As a result of these inquiries I find the opinion of the Registrar at Singapore is that he recommends that no attempt be made to legislate by order in Council, but that the word "British" be merely inserted in brackets after the word "Limited;" in other words that the matter should be dealt with by persuasion rather than legislation.

"In these circumstances I suggest that the matter be gone into again when the Conference goes into Committee. We are fortunate this year in having with us Mr. W. B. Kennett, who has a sound knowledge of this subject, and he will, doubtless, be able to advise us whether we can get any further in the matter.

"A third subject which was left to us was the question of the education of Chinese on British report, copies of which have already been issued, is to be read to you later on. It is not necessary therefore for me to say anything except to welcome very cordially Sir William Brunyate, Vice-Chancellor of Hongkong University, Mr. Bernard Upwood of Griffith John College, Dr. Lavington Hart of the Anglo-Chinese College, Tientsin and Mr. Sparham of the London Mission, all of whom have been good enough to come to the Conference to enable us to get to grips with this very important matter.

FELICITATES THE EXPERTS

"About another subject which we discussed last year, the Conservancy of the Yangtze, more is to be said later on. In connection with it I would like to make reference to the appointment of an International Commission to investigate the possibilities of the improvement of the sea approaches to Shanghai and of harbor accommodation. A most important event in the history of Shanghai in which this Association has taken its share of interest. I can only, at this stage, wish the Commission every success in the great and vastly interesting task which they have before them.

"A word or two must be said also in regard to the Association's Constitution. As authorised last year, we have drawn up a Constitution, part of which has already received the approval of members. The financial part was necessarily delayed until the conclusion of the Association's financial year.

"As you will see from the Agenda, the constitution stands first on the paper for this afternoon's business and you will be able to discuss any points which it may raise. Prior to your discussion I would like, as Chairman to make a few remarks regarding the responsibilities which rest on the Shanghai Chamber's shoulders as the Association's headquarters. There have been occasions during the past year when we have had to take decisions on behalf of the Association without having time to consult all members. There was one occasion also when, at first at all events, the Manchurian Chambers did not see eye to eye with us.

"I wish to assure you that in taking these decisions the Shanghai Chamber has done its utmost to meet the views and the welfare of the Association as a whole. We realise very clearly that if this Association is to remain a success each Chamber must, as far as possible, be treated as an independent entity. In some Chambers membership is to a large extent made up of branch offices of head offices here. Occasionally, it may at times be difficult to reconcile the views held by them and the views held in Shanghai, especially on subjects where commerce and politics meet. When such occasions arise I want to assure you that the Committee of the Shanghai Chamber has not taken, and will not take, decisions in any high-handed or peremptory way. We here realise that the whole value of the Association, or at all events a large part of its value, lies in the fact that it is an Association of different points of view, to which each member is entitled and the reconciliation of which is one of the Association's main objects.

ASKS FOR CO-OPERATION

"That brings me to the difficult question of politics. You will, I think, all agree with me that we are concerned with politics only when politics and commerce are inseparable. We have no wish to intrude ourselves into the spheres that properly belong to our diplomatists. We are confident of their ability to look after that side of things for us.

"There are, however, questions in which politics and commerce merge and it is then and only then that we claim the right to make our views known. Even on those occasions we ought, I think, to take into consideration the wishes of our diplomatists as to the extent of the publicity to be given to our opinions. After all, they may often know more than they can tell us. They are sometimes in the position of being able to give us hints only. I think that due consideration should be given to their hints, and all we ask is that they on their side, will make their hints as full as possible and give them to us early enough to enable us to arrive at properly considered decisions.

"Their are two resolutions on the agenda which are to some extent political. They are both subjects on which we feel very keenly. They will, I expect, be fully discussed, the more so as there is shortly to meet a very much more important conference than this one. I refer, of course, to the Washington Conference. That Conference is primarily a disarmament Conference and as such commands the sympathy and good wishes of the whole world. Disarmament, however, can only follow the solution of specific problems many of which bristle with difficulties. Some of us here are only too familiar with their obstinate character and in relation to them, including as they do on the one hand China's Sovereign rights and on the other the natural aspirations of Japan, I venture only to say this, that this Association stands for equality of opportunity, the open door, and the cause of peace and good government in this country."

Telegrams were read from Sir Beilby Alston, British Minister; the President of the Federation of British Industries, London, and the British Chamber of Commerce at Vladivostok. All pledged co-operation and wished the conference success. The wire from the Minister brought his regrets at his inability to attend.

The telegram from London read:

The president of the Federation of British Industries begs to convey to the President of the Association of British Chambers of Commerce in China cordial wishes for success of the the conference and an expression of willingness to co-operate wherever possible with the Association of Chambers in the interests of British trade in China.

Mr. H. H. Fox also spoke.

The chairman then moved that the conference go into committee and that Mr. W. B. J. Kennett be asked to act as chairman of the conference while in committee. The resolution was passed and Mr. Kennett consented to take the position of chairman. The conference then adjourned resuming this afternoon, when executive sessions started.

WELL DONE!

Success had come to Oswald Bunn.
And this was how he won it;
He didn't know it couldn't be done,
So he just went and done it.

"Have you any really good hair restorer?" inquired the old soldier, fixing his eyes on the bald, glossy cranium of the chemist.

"Yes, sir," answered he of the drugs, "and we also have some fine hair-dye."

"Hair-dye!" echoed the son of Mars. "Young feller, d'ye know old soldiers never dye?"

WHERE IGNORANCE IS BLISS

Ignorance is never shown more effectually than in an attempt to conceal it. A countryman, wandering about a cemetery, came upon a stone bearing this inscription: "Sic transit gloria mundi" (So passes earthly glory).

"What does that mean?" he asked of the sexton, who was at work near by. The sexton replied: "Well, it means that he was sick transiently, and went to glory on a Monday morning."

The editor of an American newspaper dropped in to a special afternoon service for the first time for many years. He listened to the sermon for a while and then rushed to his office.

"What are you fellows doing?" he shouted. "How about the news from the seat of war?"

"What news?"

"Why, all this about the Egyptian army being drowned in the Red Sea. The minister up at the church knows all about it, and you haven't got a single word of it in our latest edition. Bustle round, you fellows, and get out a special extra sharp!"

THE CRIMSON STAINS

She was not fair, as men call fair,
When first I saw her standing there
Within the shelter of the lane—
In fact, she looked distinctly plain.
Her cheeks were flushed, her hair awry,
She had an eager, furtive eye,
As though in search of ill-got gains,
And on her hands were crimson stains!
A horror seized me, as I stood,
Of ghastly crimes in lonely wood.
She had a basket in her hand—
What guilty secrets had she planned?

* * *

And with my fevered brow awhirl
I took one step towards the girl—
And smilingly she turned her head—
"What lovely blackberries!" she said.

QUITE A DECENT HUSBAND

England, in regard to Ireland, is in the position of a man who is willing to make any concessions to his wife, if she will only keep up appearances, by living in the same house with him.—

Go Back To School

A Plea To All Hesitating Young Men

By Dr. Wm. A. McKeever
Widely Known Lecturer and Author and a National Authority on Juvenile Problems.

Just now, when many thousands of youths are faltering seriously on the subject of further attendance at school, my advice is, by all means go back to the class room.

It may for the time being seem easy to hold down a job and to earn all the money you appear to need. But that will prove only a temporary arrangement. Sooner or later your lack of 'schooling may come up and slap you squarely in the face. You will see educated young men passing over your head while you remain on some dead level of accomplishment.

So many young men have an entirely wrong idea of the common school course. They imagine its purpose is to learn something you can at once take out into the world and sell or turn into direct profit. But that is a cheap, short-sighted view of the matter.

Up till you are twenty-one or more, you must think of the best school as a place to grow into a fuller and deeper knowledge of the world and its affairs. In the school you may study a little, read much, discuss hundreds of things, and thus acquire a fondness for knowledge. Finally, you grow an ambition to be somebody and to do something worth while.

Young men are often surprised when I tell them that almost any kind of progressive school is good enough. While you are still young and impressionable you simply need some agency to stimulate your interest in things worth while and self-improvement.

A common high school, a school of craftsmanship with some cultural subjects like English and history included, a business college that spurs ambition, a night school that holds up high ideals—surely one of these can be found to fit you. Make haste to get into it.

Yes, I know you are interested in making money and getting ahead financially. That is precisely what is thought of in this admonition to go back to school. The general growth of your mind, the deeper grasp of some additional subjects, the better knowledge of how to get on with people, the new, manifold vision of a larger and more independent career—these are the subtle forces which the school course quietly organize within you, issuing finally in a personality which can go out and command bigger wages and a far happier relation to business.

So you see, my boy, I want you to go to school—not so much to master certain subjects and to obtain some grades, but to learn how to master yourself. Do not grow "sour" on the world of progress about you. Do not grow bitter with envy at other young men who succeed through education. Resolve to get into the moving procession yourself and learn to keep step with the best of them.

Force yourself back into school, my boy.

Shanghai Kedah Plantations Meeting

A statutory meeting of the Shanghai Kedah Plantations, Ld., was held Tuesday at the offices of the secretaries, Messrs. A. R. Burkill and Sons, 2 Kiukiang Road.
Mr. E. W. Noel presided, supported by Messrs. C. R. Burkill, G. M. W. Hummel, directors, and E. A. Prince secretary, while other shareholders represented totalled 29,064 shares.
The secretary having read the notice convening the meeting the chairman said: "This meeting is called in order to comply with the Companies ordinances and is only of a formal nature. The statutory report has been in your hands for some time and the particulars of shareholdings are on the table here and are open to the inspection of any shareholder who may wish to look at them.
"The directors propose that the company's financial year shall terminate on September 30, the same as with the old company. The first accounts presented will therefore cover only the period from the date of liquidation to September 30, 1921.
"Every possible economy has been instituted and, at the present price for rubber, the estimates for the current year indicate that the estates are very nearly self-supporting, in spite of considerable capital expenditure which is urgently required for the erection of new lines at Paya Kamunting estate.
Riverside estate has been rested for about four months, as tapping was unremunerative, but, which the recent advance in the price for rubber, a resumption of tapping is being made.
"If any shareholder has any questions to ask regarding any matter relating to the formation of the company, or arising out of the statutory report, I shall be pleased to answer them."
"No questions were asked and, on the proposition of the chairman, seconded by Mr. G. M. W. Hummel, the following resolution was carried unanimously: "That the statutory report, as presented, be accepted."

Woman's Club Notes

A bridge and mah-jongg party will be given by the Social Department of the American Woman's Club this evening. Mrs. V. G. Lyman, chairman, reports that many tables have been engaged. Others wishing to engage tables may do so by notifying Mrs. Lang, Mrs. A. M. Massie or Mrs. William Morris.

TO HEAR LECTURE
The Literary Department of the American Woman's Club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the Royal Asiatic Society Hall when Dr. Darroch will speak on "The Evolution of Chinese Writing."
The first meeting of the Music Department of the Club will be held at the home of Mrs. M. P. Walker at St. John's University November 10.

TO GIVE BENEFIT DANSANT
Plans are being made by the American Woman's Club for giving a tea dance at the Astor House the afternoon of November 13, the proceeds of which will be turned over to the American School fund.
During the campaign the club pledged $1,000 to the school and the sum received from the tea dance will go toward this amount. The tea dance given last year by the club was such a success that it is hoped the affair this year will be as well attended.
